The National Youth Forum for 2016

Another student who is following his passion and is prepared to chase his interests is Jackson Holmes-Matheson. He is attending the National Science Youth Forum in 2016 at the Australian National University from January 18th to 30th, during his summer break.

The NYSF aims to provide scientific students the opportunity to experience and gain a large network of friends, colleagues and support groups who will stay for life and to give an insight into future careers in scientific fields. Approximately 200 people were accepted into the NYSF from Australia. During the week of activities he will be exploring a huge range of intriguing science topics including particle accelerators and super computers. We wish Jackson all the best over the week.

How good are our artists? Very very good.

Mrs Villiers and her Year 10 class have worked tirelessly to bring a ray of brightness to the residents of Sarah Claydon and what a fabulous result. The hard work, talent and endurance the students have applied has resulted in an incredible feature to be viewed by all, and working amongst the older people was an outstanding learning experience for all involved. We congratulate these incredible artists.

Have an awesome week.

ISE Regional Performing Ensemble Tour

On Monday 9th November at 7pm the Ensemble will perform at the ExServo’s. They will also be performing for students at our local public schools. The tour is to raise awareness of the wonderful experience being part of the Regional Performing Ensemble provides for students. The Ensemble can also be booked for special events during the year with enough notice.

Who Do You Know in this year’s Ensemble?

Many talented locals from Ulladulla High School have been involved in the Ensemble over the years and have wonderful memories of touring with the group. This year you might recognise Zeke Cameron as part of the band on trumpet, Rachel Tidbury as a vocalist and Jai-leigh Hadland (ex-student) as a dancer.

Mini Olympics

On Thursday 22nd October I had the pleasure of accompanying “The Fab Four” students to compete in the Mini Olympics held at Wollongong with another 300 students from all over the South Coast and some from Sydney.

Our students were (Photo Left-Right) JJ Lill, Jacob Baker, Bailey Warner, and Zarley Oakman and they competed in a number of events. They tried their hardest in everything from long jump, throwing events and running in 50 metres, 100 metres and 200 metres.

Bailey did particularly well, medalling twice in the 100 and 200 metre sprint events. All four students made new friends on the day with students from other schools. We spent the day with the Narooma High representatives supporting and cheering for each other in every event they participated in.

Chris Sinden, SLSO

PS On behalf of the parents and students, I would like to thank Chris for his encouragement and great support of our “Fab Four”. John Field RASLSO

PSYCHOLOGY Girls do it again!

Year 10 Psychology girls are again raising money for disadvantaged people. This year we have chosen to help the Syrian Refugees and will donate the money to UNHCR Australia for Refugees.

We are again having a sleepover in the MPC on Friday 4th December, 2015. There will be games and activities all night. Dinner will be supplied (not rice this time).

The girls will be visiting roll calls and Year meetings to take names of those interested in attending. If you want to get in early, come and see Mrs Clare in the Budjan staffroom.

Don't miss out as there are limited places.

There will also be a very special event with Brooke at our fundraiser. Shhh... it's a secret!

Cost is $25 per person. If anyone would like to donate to this cause, please do so through the office.
